

School & Community Relational Support Coordinator

Building relational infrastructure so that all young people can thrive

Kingdom Overflow

London Borough of Havering

A pioneering opportunity to help create a new model of support for young people

Recruitment Pack 2026

Young people are falling through fragmented systems ...

Young people across Havering are experiencing increasing levels of wellbeing and mental health need

Young people, families and schools consistently identify growing demand for support, whilst specialist services remain under increasing pressure. Existing provision is not always broad enough to respond to individual needs and is often delivered through short-term interventions that lack relational continuity.

Whilst counselling and clinical intervention remain essential, there is growing recognition that many young people also need trusted relationships, positive opportunities, and earlier support before needs escalate.

Earlier Intervention

Many young people need support before difficulties reach crisis point. Earlier Support can prevent escalation and improve long-term outcomes.

Relational presence

Consistent presence creates familiarity, trust and rapport. Young people are more likely to engage in support from adults that they know, recognise and are comfortable with.

Connected Communities

Young People thrive when schools, communities, families and services work together. We help create coordinated networks of support that extend beyond the school gate.

Kingdom Overflow exists to build relational infrastructure around young people through schools, communities and partnerships.

We create opportunities for belonging and participation and help young people have access to the support they need, when and where they need it.

... Every young person deserves the opportunity to thrive.

About Kingdom Overflow

Kingdom Overflow is part of St Luke's Cranham Park (Registered Charity No. 1128304). We believe local churches have a unique contribution to make within the professional support surrounding young people and seek to work collaboratively with schools, communities, churches and professional services to help young people thrive.

Our Projects

We aim to transform the landscape of youth mental health through school-based wellbeing centres, mentoring, listening spaces, creative and sports programmes, community projects and specialist partnerships.

OVERFLOWCREATE Unleashing Sunshine From Creativity to Confidence ... using arts, media and creative projects to develop strengths, identity and self-expression.	OVERFLOWFOOTBALL Creating Community From Pitch to Pathway ... Using sport to create connection, participation, positive relationships and access to support.	OVERFLOWDANCE releasing potential From Participation to Support ... Using dance and creative movement to build confidence, belonging and wellbeing.	OVERFLOW HUB Creating community From isolation to connection ... School and community-based drop-in spaces fostering belonging and participation and providing access to support.

How We Work

Rather than delivering isolated interventions, we work to create a connected ecosystem of relationships, opportunities and support around young people.

By combining school-based provision, community projects, partnerships and specialist pathways, we help young people to access support built around their individual needs.

Relational Presence

Through being embedded in schools, we create familiarity, rapport and trust that makes support more accessible and effective.

Connected to communities

We enable young people to access support, belonging and opportunity beyond the school day through community-based projects and partnerships.

Focussed on potential

We seek to recognise and develop the strengths, gifts and aspirations of young people, helping them grow in confidence, purpose and wellbeing.

Building Support Around Young People

Every young person is different.

Effective support begins by understanding individual needs and creating responses built around the person rather than expecting the person to fit a programme.

SCHOOL SUPPORT

Embedding wellbeing support within the daily life of school.

OVERFLOW HUB

School-based and community-based drop-in spaces that increase belonging, opportunity and early access to support.

OVERFLOW FOOTBALL

Creating belonging, participation and pathways to support through football.

OVERFLOW DANCE

Creating belonging, confidence and access to support through dance.

OVERFLOW CREATE

Using music, arts, media and creative projects to foster expression, connection and wellbeing.

LISTENING SPACES

Providing safe, informal opportunities for young people to talk, reflect and seek support.

MENTORING

Building trusted one-to-one relationships that encourage growth, confidence and resilience.

WELLBEING PROGRAMMES

Delivering universal and targeted wellbeing interventions in response to identified needs.

CONNECTING PATHWAYS

Helping young people access the right support, opportunities and specialist services at the right time.

PARTNERSHIPS

Increasing available interventions through growing networks of local partners.

COMMUNITY CONNECTIONS

Creating opportunities for young people to belong, contribute and thrive beyond school.

SPECIALIST SERVICES

Providing routes into more intensive support when required.

RELATIONAL INFRASTRUCTURE

The relationships, opportunities, partnerships and pathways that help young people access the right support at the right time.

Through consistent presence, personalised responses and coordinated support networks, Kingdom Overflow works to help young people thrive both within and beyond school.

THE ROLE IN PRACTICE

Bringing Relational Infrastructure to Life

Kingdom Overflow exists to create connected networks of relationships, opportunities and support around young people.

The School & Community Relational Support Coordinator plays a key role in making that vision a reality across both school and community settings.

This is a pioneering opportunity to help shape a growing model of relational wellbeing support.

What Makes This Role Different?

Working across both school and community settings, the coordinator helps create continuity of support, opportunity and relationships beyond the school gate.

This role is not limited to delivering interventions. It helps build the relationships, pathways and partnerships that make long-term wellbeing support possible.

1. RELATIONAL SUPPORT & OVERFLOW HUB

- Leading the development of Overflow Hub provision across school and community settings
- Using Overflow Hub as a bridge between school-based and community-based support
- Building visibility and relational presence within school
- Delivering mentoring, listening spaces and informal wellbeing support
- Creating safe opportunities for connection and conversation
- Building familiarity, rapport and trust over time
- Working collaboratively with pastoral, safeguarding and wider school staff

2. PARTICIPATION & OPPORTUNITY

- Raising awareness of Kingdom Overflow projects and opportunities
- Increasing participation in Overflow Football, Overflow Dance and Overflow Create
- Delivering universal and targeted wellbeing programmes
- Creating opportunities for belonging, confidence and positive engagement
- Helping embed a whole-school approach to wellbeing, belonging and relational support
- Helping young people discover and develop their strengths, interests and potential

3. PATHWAYS & PERSONALISED SUPPORT

- Managing referrals and signposting
- Coordinating personalised support pathways
- Working alongside families and carers
- Connecting young people with specialist services and interventions
- Responding flexibly to emerging needs
- Maintaining appropriate records and contributing to impact evaluation

4. COMMUNITY CONNECTIONS & PARTNERSHIPS

- Strengthening links between school and community provision
- Developing partnerships and referral networks
- Increasing the range of support available to young people
- Supporting community-based Overflow Hub opportunities
- Recruiting, supporting and coordinating mentors, listeners and volunteers
- Contributing to Kingdom Overflow's long-term vision for relational wellbeing support

WORKING ACROSS SCHOOL & COMMUNITY

Embedded School-Based Presence

Building relationships, delivering wellbeing support, creating listening spaces and helping young people access support where they spend most of their week.

Community-Based Pathways & Opportunities

Creating pathways into community projects, mentoring, belonging, volunteering, specialist support and positive opportunities beyond the school day.

Relationships are not an addition to support.
They are the foundation that makes support possible.

Role

Description

Title: School and Community Relational Support Coordinator

Based in: London Borough of Havering

Hours of work: 40 per week (including some evenings and weekends, term time only)

Expenses: Travel expenses to and from project locations will be provided

Probation period: 3-months

Reporting To: Designated Trustee, Kingdom Overflow

Role purpose

This role exists to help build relational infrastructure around young people through school and community-based settings, projects and partnerships. By combining relational support, coordinated pathway development and community engagement, the postholder creates personalised responses that enable young people to belong, access support, and thrive.

Relational Support and Wellbeing

The postholder will:

- Maintain a visible presence within a school, and wider community settings.
- Develop trusted relationships with pupils, staff and families, recognising that effective support is built upon trust, and sustained presence.
- Deliver mentoring, coaching, group work, assemblies, workshops and wellbeing activities as required in response to identified needs.
- Create opportunities for belonging, participation and positive relationships.
- Deliver targeted support in response to identified needs.
- Deliver therapeutic, wellbeing or relational interventions appropriate to their qualifications, training and experience.
- Help identify emerging needs and contribute to the development of appropriate responses and support plans.
- Shape bespoke opportunities, programmes and pathways around the needs, strengths and aspirations of young people.
- Maintain appropriate records relating to support, referrals and outcomes in accordance with organisational policies and professional standards.

Wellbeing Centre Development

The postholder will:

- Support the development and implementation of Kingdom Overflow's Wellbeing Centre model.
- Develop and oversee school-based drop-ins, listening spaces and wellbeing opportunities.
- Help establish mentoring and relational support provision within a school.
- Build strong working relationships with school staff and contribute to a culture of collaboration around young people's wellbeing.
- Support the development of systems and processes that enable early identification and intervention.
- Coordinate wellbeing opportunities delivered through the wider Kingdom Overflow team and volunteers.
- Help connect school-based support with wider Kingdom Overflow projects.
- Contribute to the development of new initiatives, partnerships and pathways in response to identified need.

Partnership and Pathway Development

The postholder will:

- Develop and maintain positive working relationships with schools, community organisations, local authorities and specialist services.
- Help create integrated pathways of support that enable young people to access the right support at the right time.
- Coordinate referrals to appropriate services and opportunities.
- Attend and contribute to multi-agency meetings where appropriate.
- Work collaboratively with pastoral, safeguarding, SEND and wellbeing teams within school settings.
- Strengthen connections between universal provision, targeted support and specialist intervention.
- Advocate for young people and families where appropriate.
- Help create personalised pathways into Kingdom Overflow projects and partner provision.

Volunteer Leadership and Development

The postholder will:

- Recruit, train, coordinate and support volunteer mentors, listeners and project staff alongside the Director and wider Kingdom Overflow team.
- Help develop a sustainable network of volunteers capable of providing safe, accessible and relational support.

- Provide appropriate supervision, encouragement and development opportunities for volunteers.
- Ensure safeguarding, accountability and professional standards are maintained across volunteer-led activities.
- Support volunteers in recognising emerging needs and accessing referrals.
- Foster a culture of belonging, hospitality, encouragement and relational support.
- Participate with events and opportunities to engage stakeholders and supporters, and to recruit further volunteers.

Community and Church-Based Provision

The postholder will:

- Contribute to the development and delivery of community and church-based projects that create belonging, strengthen relationships and provide accessible opportunities for support.
- Work alongside Arts, Dance, Sports, and other project leaders to develop integrated opportunities for engagement, participation and development.
- Recognise community provision as an important relational gateway through which trust, belonging and support can be developed.
- Strengthen protective factors through participation in positive relationships, activities and communities.
- Support the development of community-based groups, projects and opportunities that respond to local need.
- Help young people access opportunities across the wider Kingdom Overflow pathway.
- Create pathways into belonging, participation, leadership and personal development for young people and young adults.
- Contribute to the wider vision of seeing local churches become a transforming presence at the heart of young people's worlds.

Safeguarding, Evaluation and Professional Practice

The postholder will:

- Always follow safeguarding policies and procedures.
- Maintain appropriate records and reporting systems.
- Participate in reflective practice, supervision and professional development.
- Work within the limits of their professional competence and qualifications.
- Contribute to evaluation, impact measurement and organisational learning.
- Support the development of policies, procedures and good practice as needed.
- Meet with their line manager and wider team for supervision, support and planning.
- Act as an ambassador for Kingdom Overflow and uphold the values, ethos and reputation of the organisation.

Frequently Asked Questions?

Is this role expected to deliver everything in the job description at once?

No. The job description reflects the full scope of the role, but many responsibilities develop over time. Some activities are seasonal, some are project-based, and priorities will evolve in response to local need and opportunity.

How is time typically divided?

Typically 66% school-embedded, and 33% community-based. The balance will vary throughout the year depending on need, priorities and emerging opportunities.

Is this primarily a support role or a development role?

Both. The role combines direct work with young people alongside developing projects, partnerships and pathways that strengthen support over the longer term.

Will every school look the same?

No. Every school community has different strengths, challenges and priorities. The role requires flexibility and a willingness to help develop bespoke responses rather than deliver a fixed programme.

Will I be expected to do this alone?

No. The postholder will work as part of a growing team alongside paid-staff, schools volunteers, mentors, counsellors, community organisations and specialist partners.

What support will be available?

Regular supervision, training, professional development and support from a growing network of staff, volunteers and partners.

Is this role for everyone?

Probably not. The role is likely to suit someone who is entrepreneurial and enjoys building relationships, working collaboratively, and responding creatively to needs.
